SKO-Network group "International Managers"

Who we are

"International Managers" is a new group within the SKO network. We want to help promote understanding and build bridges between expat managers and life and culture in Switzerland.

Who should join us

Our group represents expat managers from around the globe who have moved to Switzerland and want to get to know more about life, politics and working in Switzerland as well as internationally active swiss managers who want to stay connected with an international community at home. We communicate in English.

Our mission

Get connected! We help you to discover Switzerland and learn more about how Switzerland works. And we support the mission of SKO. We believe that managers play a vital role both in the companies they work for and as facilitators of dialogue in society: it is about taking the right decisions to prepare a more sustainable and inclusive future. As the independent and autonomous voice of managers, SKO represents the interests of managers. We see ourselves as bridge builders between employees and employers. We bring leadership issues to the center of the public debate. We are convinced that the knowledge, experience and competence of our network can contribute to find comprehensive solutions to today's challenges.
